

Dr Ramesh de Silva
MB ChB MRCP MD
Consultant Cardiologist

Dr Ramesh de Silva graduated in 1995 from the University of Leeds. Following medical training in Sheffield, he then became a research registrar in cardiology and obtained his MD thesis from the University of Hull.

Further training in cardiology was acquired at both Papworth Hospital in Cambridge and the Essex Cardiothoracic Centre in Basildon. An international fellowship at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York completed his training and he was appointed as a consultant cardiologist at Bedford and Papworth Hospitals in August 2010.

In addition to general cardiology, Dr de Silva has developed a sub-speciality interest in all aspects of coronary intervention and coronary computed tomographic angiography (CTA), two areas of expertise that will further enhance the already excellent service provided by the department of cardiology at Bedford Hospital.