

Dr Jacquelyn Harvey
BSc MBChB MRCP

Consultant Gastroenterologist and General Physician

Dr Harvey graduated from Edinburgh University Medical School in 1996 and was awarded MRCP (UK) in 1999. Her specialist training in gastroenterology and general medicine began at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge in 2000 and was completed at St George's Hospital, London in January 2010.

Dr Harvey joined Bedford Hospital as a part time consultant in February 2010. Her interests include nutrition and artificial nutrition support, endoscopy training and general luminal gastroenterology. Dr Harvey is involved in the development of a regional nutrition network.

A PGA in Medical Education was awarded in 2010 and Dr Harvey is an advanced life support instructor. She is also faculty for endoscopy training at St. George's Hospital National Endoscopy Training Centre.