

Dr Nicholas Morrish
BA, MB BChir, MRCP(UK), MD, FRCP(London)
Consultant Diabetologist

Dr Nicholas Morrish trained at Cambridge University and Guy's Hospital Medical School.

Qualifications:	BA	Cambridge University	June 1975
	MB BChir	Cambridge University	July 1978
	MRCP (UK)		March 1981
	MD	Cambridge University	June 1990
	FRCP (Lond)		May 1996

After house jobs at Guy's Hospital, Dr Morrish undertook medical SHO jobs in Norwich and Southampton and then spent two years as medical registrar at St Thomas' Hospital. He moved back to Guy's for research and specialist training in diabetes and endocrinology.

Dr Morrish was appointed as consultant physician with special interest in diabetes and endocrinology at Bedford Hospital in August 1991.

He has a particular interest in the management of diabetes in pregnancy and in the organisation of diabetes care, and runs general diabetes and endocrine clinics and a combined diabetes antenatal clinic with Mrs Reynolds.