

Dr Stuart Lloyd
MB ChB, MRCS(A&E), FCEM
Emergency Medicine Consultant

Dr Stuart Lloyd studied medicine at the University of Stellenbosch, South Africa, obtaining an MB ChB in 1999. He arrived in the UK in 2000 to pursue a career in emergency medicine, obtaining an MRCS(A&E) from the Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh in 2003 and an FCEM by examination in 2007 after a five-year specialist training programme in emergency medicine.

Dr Lloyd took up his first consultant role at Bedford Hospital in July 2008. He is a general emergency medicine consultant with special interests in trauma, intensive care, procedural sedation and emergency ultrasound.

He is an advanced life support and advanced trauma life support instructor.